

'ROUND 'N' 'ROUND

Lacking space, I can't print in full, C. W. Fessler's pointed editorial, "Watch Your Step, Ladies."

Fessler writes of the present movement by women's clubs to stop walkathons, danceathons and such.

He begs that the ladies do not, in their effort to wipe out these exhibitions from the face of the earth, term them "immoral."

"For the reason that they are immoral, they should be discouraged. San Francisco women's clubs use this argument which is sufficient but they do not stop there. They also term the spectacles 'immoral'."

"They should, in fact, sedulously refrain from using any terms or gestures which might lead the citizenry to suspect they're starting a reform. The public has a deep-rooted aversion to reform in any guise; it fails to see the ideal in women's club agitations and, instead, sees only an attempt to deprive it of fun."

"Thus women's clubs might make marathons popular merely by terming the immoral and crusading against them with reform banners flying. Consider how popular a certain group of well-meaning ladies made drinking merely by using the enticing word 'immoral' in their description of the practice."

"So we fervently hope that the ladies of San Francisco conduct their campaign along circumspect lines else the perverse public will be going for marathons exhibitions in a large way and soon they will be surreptitiously staged in places where bootleg liquor was once sold and to numerically large pop-eyed audiences."

City Dads Have Special Guests

A number of old residents of the city attended the meeting of the council last evening to watch the new members perform.

Among them was ex-Councilman Gerry A. Follett, who served in the early days when there were no grades in the city. In congratulating the members of the council on their work, he stated this was the first time in years he had been at a meeting. Follett said the early days in the city were strenuous ones, and there were many battles royal, but everything had worked out for the best.

"The foundations have been laid for your work, and I feel that you are capable of carrying on," he said.

Attorney Lee D. Windrem was called upon and said he understood that sometime in the future a discussion of the Police Commission would be taken up, and when that time came he would consider it an honor if he was invited to sit in.

Mayor Johnson informed him he would be notified when the matter was to be taken up.

Monthly Reports Read to Council

A number of departmental reports were read at the meeting of the city council last evening. The attendance at the bathhouse during the past month was 5,615, and the receipts were $11,262.55.

City Tax Collector J. O. Ford reported tax collections amounting to $63,782.32.

The receipts of the electrical inspector were $28.95, plumbing inspector $122.75 and building inspector $62.

The health commissioner reported 27 births, 11 males and 16 females.

Chief of Police L. E. Jones, in his annual report, showed property stolen to the value of $15,445.34, of which $7,911.61 was recovered.

Price of Bread Takes Wings in Many Sections

A check on Richmond bakeries and food stores last night showed that bread prices have not been changed.

A meeting on Wednesday of master bakers and store proprietors will decide what action is to be taken locally regarding the price of the "staff of life."

By UNITED PRESS
Imposition of the government processing tax on wheat brought rising prices for bread throughout the United States yesterday.

The average price increase to housewives was between one and two cents a pound but in many instances bakers reduced the size of the loaf by two ounces and maintained former prices.

New York independent bakers added one cent to the price of one pound loaves and as much as two cents to larger loaves.

The Atlantic & Pacific Tea company chain stores increased the price of white bread by one cent but maintained previous prices for rye, raisin and whole wheat bread.

Chicago prices were boosted one cent a loaf on all sizes and Kansas City chain stores added a cent a pound, despite the fact that independent bakers maintained the old price.

Connecticut bakers reduced 24 ounce loaves to twenty ounces, and eighteen ounce to fourteen.

Michigan bakers adopted a "code" providing for a retail price of 1/2 cent an ounce, a slight increase over former prices.

Government experts believe that increased wheat prices and the processing tax should entitle bakers to an increase of 1-1/2 cents a pound for the finished product.

Councilmen Table Taxation Letter
The request of the California Municipal Utilities association, requesting the city council to go on record as being opposed to the taxation by the state of municipal utilities, was tabled at the meeting of the council last evening.

Councilman W. W. Scott took the position that the county legislators were more conversant with the measures before the legislature and he thought it would be presumptuous to take action in the matter.

WINEHAVEN FIRM GIVEN RENEWAL OF FRANCHISE

The renewal of the wine franchise of the Calwa Corporation, at Winehaven, for a period of twenty years by the council last evening, may mean big things for Richmond in the future.

The corporation was represented by Attorney Leo Marcello, and in explaining the application to the members of the council, he stated that with the trend in the country toward the repeal of the eighteenth amendment, it was very likely that the company would resume the manufacture of wine at the plant, or dispose of the property to some large eastern concern.

It was stated that at one time the Dupont interest were seriously considering the purchase of the property, and using it as a coast plant for the manufacture of its varied products.

In either event, the wharf would be necessary to any concern that operated at that point.

Granted in 1908
The original wharf franchise was granted by Richmond in 1908 when the present Winehaven wharf was constructed at a cost of $230,000.

Originally it was 1842 feet in length, and afterwards, when the United States pierhead line was extended, an additional 765 feet was added.

During the week, City Attorney T. M. Carlson, will draw the ordinance granting the extension of the franchise, and it will be presented to the council for action next Monday night.

Small City
The property of the Calwa corporation consists of 45.71 acres of upland and 43.51 acres of tide land. There is practically a town by itself on the property.

"The plant consists of vast warehouse space, in fact as much as the San Francisco waterfront had ten years ago, a two-story hotel, and about 20 residences."

When the corporation operated in the past it employed about 250 people.

Six Injured In Auto Accidents
Automobile accidents exacted a toll of injuries to six Richmond people over the week-end.

Mrs. J. Bether, 60, received a broken collar bone in a crash at Twenty-third street and Burbeck avenue Sunday. She was a passenger in a car driven by C. C. Pummill of Richmond when it collided with one piloted by Allen Summers also of this city.

Miss Anita Stacker, 27, of 432 Eighth street, and Fred Simonson, 32, of 527 Fifth street, were pinned beneath their car when it was overtaken by a "cut in" driver who failed to stop.

Both were treated at an Oakland hospital.

Miss Emma Clark, 220 Kelsey street, F. W. Watkins, Vernon street, and Mrs. Mildred Watson, Filbert street, all of North Richmond, received bruises and lacerations in a crash at Macdonald avenue and Thirty-seventh street Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Scott were driving the car which was involved in a collision with that of Arthur Sanders, of 222 Dubois street, North Richmond. The three injured were passengers in the Sanders car. The latter was cited for driving without an operator's license.

Railway Employees Fight Fare Slashes
In a communication to the city council at its meeting last evening, the Amalgamated Street Railway Employees Association asked that action be taken against the move of the Commuters' league in asking that "trans-bay fares be reduced."

It was claimed a change in rates would mean reduction in the wages of the employees, and the effect on the communities of the east bay section would be detrimental.

The letter was ordered filed.

Mr. and Mrs. John Jewell and a group of friends have returned from band held a practice meeting last week's outing at Santa Cruz.

Poison Fatal to Youthful Tarzan Club 'President'

SAN FRANCISCO, July 10.—UP—An attempt to emulate the mythical Tarzan of the Apes was believed today to have caused the death of Charles William Green, 8, who ate leaves and grass with other members of a juvenile Tarzan club.

It was feared the boy ate leaves on which insecticide had been sprayed, Coroner T. B. W. Leland ordered an analysis of the lad's stomach.

Symptoms Found
Billy died Friday at St. Mary's Hospital, apparently from natural causes. The autopsy revealed an enlarged liver, one of the symptoms of a slow poisoning.

When the child's "pal" Billy Clark, 7, also of 2222 North Point street, showed symptoms apparently similar to those which preceded the Green boy's death, the parents questioned other children and learned of the grass-eating "initiation."

Deputy Coroner Tony Trabucco collected specimens of the trees and shrubbery in the vicinity and turned them over to Frank T. Green, city toxicologist.

Yesterday, however, Dr. William Palmer Lucas diagnosed the Clark boy's ailment as appendicitis. He will be operated upon today.

"Billy stoutly denied having chewed the leaves," his father, G. W. Clark, accountant, said.

"But he said the other children chewed the leaves often."

The Green boy's mother said that for ten days preceding his death Billy had been increasingly drowsy.

Physicians said this is a common symptom of the poison suspected.

Parents of other children in the apartment house said they will ask examinations by family physicians immediately.

Wife of Elliott Roosevelt Plans Cross Complaint

RENO, Nev., July 10.—UP—Elizabeth Donner Roosevelt, wife of the president's second son who is establishing residence at Lake Tahoe, has retained Lester Summerfield, prominent Reno attorney, and will obtain a divorce from Elliott Roosevelt on a cross complaint, it was revealed today.

Summerfield admitted to the United Press he had been retained as Mrs. Roosevelt's counsel, he said he understood young Roosevelt would file suit at Minden probably on Wednesday or Thursday.

As soon as the complaint is filed Mrs. Roosevelt will also file a cross complaint at Philadelphia and it will be aimed at Summerfield.

This should require two or three days and the divorce will be granted on Saturday or Monday, it was understood.

Washing Ties
—UP—Hurling a threat at the underworld, United States Senator Royal S. Copeland, Democrat, New York, tonight asked department of justice agents to enter the search for John J. O'Connell, Jr., of Albany, N. Y., believed to be in the hands of kidnapers.

Inform of Incident
The United Press, Copeland said sternly: "We accept this challenge. We must clean out this nest of underworld rats."

Members of the family have received three telephone and two written communications from the kidnapers.

At 1:20 a. m., Friday, a neighbor passed the O'Connell house and saw John Jr.'s automobile, its door open, parked at the curb. The automobile had not been there ten minutes earlier, according to another neighbor.

Mother Alarmed
At 1:30 a. m., Mrs. O'Connell, returning from a social engagement, saw the car and wondered why the door was opened. When she found her son was not home she became alarmed and called friends.

Regarding details of the sequence which followed, Mrs. O'Connell said:

"I was awakened by a knock at the door. I opened it and found a man standing there. He said he was a friend of John's and that he had information about his whereabouts."

"He said that John was in the hands of kidnapers and that he had been taken to a place called 'The Field House' in the mountains. He said that if I would pay a ransom of $250,000, John would be released."

"I was shocked and horrified. I called the police and the FBI. I also called my friends and family. I was very nervous and I did not know what to do."

"I was very grateful when I received a letter from John saying that he was safe and that he was on his way home. I was very happy and I felt that everything was over."

Local Vet Sets Up Home On Boulevard Following Eviction

A man, his wife and two small children slept in the street in Richmond last night, victims, according to the husband, of "the President's public law No. 2, the Contra Costa county social service, the Standard Oil company, and the Industrial Accident Commission."

"The first case of its kind in the history of Richmond, the plight of the small family is bound to create no end of comment and criticism."

B. A. Hill, unemployed since September, 1929, was evicted with his wife and children late yesterday from the premises at 143 South Eleventh street. Non-payment of rent for several months was the landlord's reason for the eviction order, Hill admitted.

Says He'll Stay
With no other home at his disposal, Hill simply moved his personal belongings onto Cutting boulevard, and there, with his wife and children, he has established himself with full determination to stay there at least ninety days, if no help is forthcoming.

Hill erected the following sign, an explanation of his actions: "Evicted by Order of President Roosevelt's Public Law No. 2—Contra Costa Social Service—Standard Oil company—Industrial Commission."

The local man was at one time employed by the Standard Oil company, he stated. He has not had employment since September, 1929, and asserts he was unable to get work at the Civilian Conservation Corps forestry camps.

He said that he had been getting and from the county in the form of grocery orders but that welfare officials had told him there was no provision for his case in regard to a place to live.

He is a veteran and is skilled in construction work. He said he had been disabled and the accident commission had decided that his injury was not due to labor which he was performing.

He said he had only been able to pay his rent intermittently since his occupation of the house several years ago. He also said that he had attempted to find a house in which he could make repairs in return for free rent but that there were none available.

Field House In Park Discussed
The drawing of plans by the city building inspector for the field house to be erected in Nicholl park came up for discussion a second time at the meeting of the city council last evening.

Councilman Otto R. Ludewig said a representative of the state board of architecture visited him, and claimed it was illegal for a person not a certified architect to draw plans for the city. Ludewig said he referred the agent to the city attorney and the city manager.

Carlson talked with the agent, and showed him the drawing the building inspector had drawn at the request of the council on the city's time, and there was no expense attached to the work. It was an economy move and would save the taxpayers of the city $150.

City Building Inspector A. J. Hurley told the council that he had not drawn any private plans for over two years, and only did the field house work because the council requested him to do it.

The explanation was satisfactory to Ludewig, and bids for the work will be received next Monday night.

LONE BANDIT GETS $80 IN DARING ACT

William Atwood, Richmond delicatessen operator and driver of a bread truck for an Oakland firm, was held up and robbed of $80 late yesterday by a bandit who forced him to drive from Richmond to Lafayette at the point of a gun.

Asks For Ride

Atwood told police that about 3:30 p. m. he had stopped at Thirty-fourth street and Macdonald avenue to check on his supplies. A man, wearing navy blue trousers and a white shirt approached the truck and asked for a ride.

He was carrying a coat over one arm, Atwood said, and seemed to appear out of nowhere.

Atwood called his attention to a printed rule of the bread company that drivers were to give no rides.

Flashes Gun
"Well," said the stranger, "I guess we are going for a ride anyway" and he slid the coat back from his hand displaying a gun.

He forced Atwood into the truck and after directing him around corners and down streets, told him to head north on San Pablo.

The long ride began then during which the truck driver was constantly menaced by the gun which the man held against his right side. Early in the drive they passed a motorcycle officer but Atwood was unable to call attention to his plight.

"They turned onto the dam road at the bandit's direction and Atwood speeded up the truck in an effort, he said, to be stopped by an officer. The gunman ordered him to keep within the speed laws and to comply with every traffic rule. He made him stop at every highway sign.

Makes Signals
During the drive, Atwood said he managed to keep his left arm out the car window. With this, he made frantic signals at each passing machine but failed to attract attention. Soon the bandit noticed something of the maneuver and ordered him to bring his arm in.

At all times during the ride the bandit seemed nervous. In passing cars, pedestrians and houses, he concealed himself by sinking far into the seat of the car. His hand containing the gun shook continually which added nothing

Misinformation NOT A WORD TRUE

A surprise blow to backers and friends of Jimmie Mattern, believed lost in Siberia, was his telephone message today from Richmond where, he says, he has been since a week ago Sunday.

"All that happened was that I got off my course and got into San Francisco Bay instead of hitting Alaska. Then it struck me that I might have a little peace and quiet for a while after the strain of the flight."

"My wife knew where I was all the time. So did the family. But I figured I'd have to make speeches, go to banquets, sign advertisements and fight off movie contracts for months. So I just stayed in Richmond and got a good rest."

"My plane landed on Point Pinero. I guess it's still there. It's in pretty bad shape, but I sorta hid it so no one would know I was here."

"That message from Siberia is a fake. Someone is trying to kidnap the public."

Redmen Appoint Four Delegates

Dan Noziglia, John Miller, Frank Shubat and Muri Jones were last evening named delegates for Oneida tribe, Redmen. They will attend the Great Council in Modesto.

John Columbus presided over the meeting of the tribe in the absence of John Moore, sachem.

Members who brought in candidates for the membership drive were awarded prizes.

Twilight Game
Set for Tonight

Twilight league fans should see some good baseball tonight when the Stanavos and Orontes teams battle on the First Street diamond.

Although the Stanavos team is in a tie for first place and the Orontes are sharing the cellar with another club, these two teams should put up a whale of a game, just because of that situation.

The Stanavos can't afford to lose, and the Orontes would get quite a jolt out of beating the high-up club.

A win tonight will assure the Stanavos at least a tie for first place.

NEW ORLEANS, July 10. UP—Coach Bernie Moore, whose Louisiana University track and field team won the national intercollegiate meet at Chicago, forging ahead of the powerful Southern California boys, is a hardline special with few peers in this country.

and track event. Explaining his system, Moore continued: "What to do with the arms is important in hurdlers, for the arms should provide the proper balance. When the right leg is up on the hurdle the left arm should be extended with the palm flat down as if trying to tap the toe. The right arm should be back with fist clenched as in sprinting.

"The body dip means that the chest should be bent forward so that it almost hits the front knee. This sets the hurdler back on the ground quicker.

New Development
"The last factor is a recent development in hurdlers, something introduced in the last five years. Old hurdlers used to follow through with the back leg, with the toe parallel to the hurdle.

"The new development is called 'hurdling the back foot.' Instead of letting the foot drift across naturally, it is whipped over the hurdle."

Producing championship teams is second nature with Moore. He coached St. Lawrence to the championship of the old S. I. A. A. and later produced two successive conference championship teams at I. S. A.

NEW ORLEANS, July 10. UP—Coach Bernie Moore, whose Louisiana University track and field team won the national intercollegiate meet at Chicago, forging ahead of the powerful Southern California boys, is a hardline special with few peers in this country.

The business of making "timberjumps" out of rookies requires technical treatment, believes Moore, who has developed a system that has made him a national authority.

Coach Moore, who claims to have been only a "mediocre" athlete himself, says there are five big factors to hurdlers: Tibs, One-Speed, Two-Speed, relaxation of muscles.

Three—Proper use of arms. Four—Body-dip, going over hurdle. Five—Back leg action.

PRODUCE CLUB TAKES BOW TO
RODEO TESSERS

The last ball tossed from Rodeo gave the Richmond Produce club a lesson in how to play the grand old game on their new lot last Sunday.

The heads and tails game, and their own on the lot, the Rodeo club played out 15 bags for 10 days while the produce men were in the city. The club's first game was a 10-0 win over the visitors, which was the only one of the kind.

The Rodeo club, which had been in the city for three days, had a 10-0 win over the visitors, which was the only one of the kind. The club's first game was a 10-0 win over the visitors, which was the only one of the kind.

It is only fitting that the initial paragraph of this baseball synopsis be confined to a testimonial to the Richmond Produce company which lost a disastrous game to Rodeo Sunday for the championship of the first half of the Three C League. The Produce men have a splendid baseball team and despite the one-sided score Sunday, they should not break their morale for man to man they have a better ball club than that of Rodeo.

A compilation of the batting averages of players on the City Recreation show the averages of the team to be quite high. These averages are confined to players appearing in more than one game and now in the City Recreation lineup:

ELECTION ON REFUND PLAN MAY BE HELD

BRENTWOOD, July 10.—Definite steps toward the calling of a special election on a refunding plan calling for a 50 per cent reduction in taxes may be taken tomorrow afternoon in a meeting of the East Contra Costa Irrigation district board of directors.

Indication to this effect was given today by district officials who said that the California District Securities commission may be expected to pass late today on the application for permission to proceed with the plan.

In the event that the proposal is approved, immediate action will be taken to hold the vote, according to the directors, since favorable completion of the refunding is considered vital.

The district board of directors is in default on the July payments through the transfer of approximately $200 needed for bond redemption from the interest to the principal funds, but a major default in December is anticipated in view of present low price levels unless speedy relief is obtained.

Ability of the district to overcome an expected default in meeting the July payments is construed by the directors to constitute a vote of confidence in the activities of the board and is expected to carry considerable weight in securing the commissions approval of the new plan.

The refunding bonds would become due in 40 years, but the district would have the right to retire them at any time necessary funds made available.

Washington State Probes Gas Prices

SPOKANE, Wash., July 10.—UP—The first shot in the State's war against price fixing by major gasoline producers was fired today when W. R. Pennington, State inheritance tax supervisor, began gathering evidence on recent gas price increases.

Pennington, operating under orders given him Sunday by Governor Clarence D. Martin, will devote his entire time to the investigation. Governor Martin intimated that some evidence of price fixing agreements by the gasoline companies had already been uncovered.

Miller-Israel Fight Tuesday for the Crown

SEATTLE, July 10.—UP—Champion Freddie Miller of the featherweight ranks will defend his crown for the fourth time in as many months when he meets Abie Israel, 29-year-old Seattle challenger, in a 15-round battle Tuesday night.

Miller in a six-round heavyweight main event here several weeks ago, flashing out a clean decision over the champion.

Miller's backers assert he was overtrained and predict a knock-out over Israel in 10 rounds.

The bout will be the first championship fight in the north-west and Seattle's first 15-round bout in recent years.

Miller has been working out in Seattle and Israel at Tacoma. The Jewish boy, confident after his clean-cut victory over the champion last month, is training with southpaw sparring partner, Miller is a left-handed puncher.

Both fighters have posted $500 weight deficits to assure their making 126 pounds. They will weigh in the afternoon of the fight.

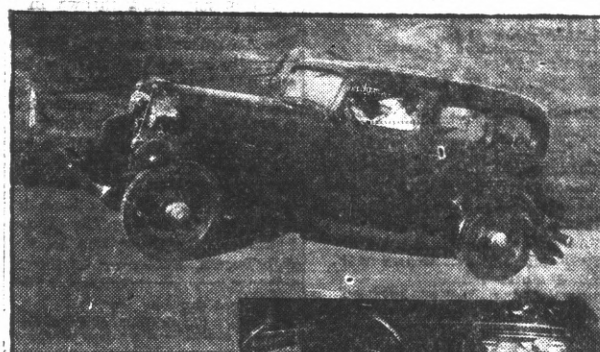

Fighting in California, Miller scored successive wins in title bouts over Baby Arizmendi, Speedy Dado and Little Dempsey.

Miller holds a two-year margin on the challenger. He has two inches longer reach, is an inch taller and is rated a harder puncher.

New Threats of Death Are Told

MARTINEZ, July 10.—Following a report to Judge Thomas D. Johnston that an armed specter had attended the murder trial of seven Filipinos, Friday, there will be two deputy sheriffs stationed at the courtroom door to watch suspect for guns.

Judge Johnston said his information came from an officer of the court who had seen the gun when the wind blew a spectator's coat open as he passed from the courtroom.

Fabio Brastrom, police informer and court witness for the prosecution, announced today that he had received two new warnings to "look out." He says he has previously been told that he is "hooked for death."

Attorney T. M. Carlson of the defense, scoffed at the death threats.

"The accused persons are morally afraid of a basement," he said.

According to District Attorney James Hogg, one witness for the prosecution is afraid to testify. He, Pastor Santhelan and his wife of Portland, believe they are being watched by kidnapers.

WIFE HAS MAN JAILED

SAN JOSE, July 10.—Roy Ladine, 39, of 1929 McKendrick Street, was held in the county jail today on charges of threatening to kill his wife, Mrs. Grace Ladine, during a family argument. Deputy Sheriffs Oliver Wells and Joseph Walsh arrested Ladine who was unable to furnish $1000 bail.

For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily.

If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas builds up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul, skin often breaks out in blemishes. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes three good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get those two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, acting when it comes to making the bile flow freely.

But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Resent a substitute. 25c at all stores. © 1931 C. M. Co.

MISS HEISE WINS FIRST TENNIS TILT

Gertrude Heise, of Richmond, present holder of the county tennis championship, showed promise to keep her title Sunday when she won her opening match in the 1933 tournament.

Sue and Ruth Smith defeated 1-6, 6-3, 6-1.

Burl Peterson of Richmond was defeated 1-6, 6-2, 8-6 by Louis Wadhams of Martinez.

Louis Mighetti of Richmond won his match against C. Garibotti, 7-5, 6-3.

In the doubles Mighetti and B. Peterson were defeated by J. Hyde and D. Hyde, 6-5, 6-3.

Carl Peterson and Eason of Richmond defeated Barkley and See, 7-5, 6-0.

Easton defeated Whitman 1-5, 7-5, 6-3.

The matches were played Saturday and Sunday at Crockett.

The semi-finals will be played next Saturday with the finals on Sunday.

Emeryville Has Speed Argument Tomorrow Night

Lloyd "Sprout" Elder, the international champion and Ray Grant, the Portland, Oregon "Flash" will settle their bitter speed argument on the tricky one-fifth mile course of the new Emeryville Motor Speedway Tuesday night, July 11, as a feature of the weekly 25-race meet.

In their last clash here Grant crashed in the final turn after nearly two laps of the most sensational racing ever seen in the west.

The first race of the evening is scheduled to get under way at 8 o'clock with Al Chastee, famous automobile and motorcycle racer, handling the flags.

Rival Rainbows Are Both Hooked

LEND, Oregon, July 10.—Two trout were hooked on the same fly at Dillon Falls recently by George Ruedler, secretary of the Deschutes County Sportsmen's association.

Furthermore, both trout, a rainbow and a fine-pointed German brown were land-d by Ruedler, noted as a fly fisherman, made a cast and the fly had hardly touched the water when the rainbow struck, followed in a flash by the brown trout.

Kyne Says Track To Be Built Here

Crockett District Is Granted Slash In Fire Insurance Rate

CHICO, Cal., July 10.—Property owners residing in the Crockett-Crockett fire district today received a present in the form of a 11 per cent reduction of fire insurance rates.

The cut was announced by the Pacific Coast Board of Fire Underwriters and results from numerous improvements in the Crockett-Crockett fire protection service during the past year.

First of these was the consolidation of the Crockett-Valencia and Tenesse Terrace county fire protection districts on August 9, last, and the subsequent enlargement of the combined district.

Following this improvement was the purchase of a $7000 fire truck, increasing the joint department's investment in apparatus and fire equipment to a total of more than $22,000.

More than half of the $7000 cost was paid on delivery of the truck and the addition was acquired without necessitating an increase in the tax rate. A new fire alarm system also was installed.

Fire Chief Lloyd Edwards has been advised that the 11.1 reduction of insurance on dwellings will be effective as of March 1.

L. S. Bush, chief engineer of the Board of Fire Underwriters, wrote that the reduction is due to the many improvements made in the department, thus minimizing the fire hazard.

Insured value of the Crockett fire district is placed at approximately $1,125,000.

Wonder Dog In Tonight's Race

War Cry, the wonder dog, takes off in tonight's special match race at El Cerrito Kennel club track. Joint holder of the track record of 29 seconds, War Cry will match strides with Circuit Court, Sylvia King, Stob Hazardous, Harry Marmos, Platinum, Clay Court and Flying Max.

This will mark the second recent appearance of War Cry at El Cerrito, and unquestionably the classy crowd will be a favorite.

El Cerrito's innovation of double options on two sets of races found favorites in front last night. Godfrey's Outlook, running away with the second and Debbi Dash a hand-out in the fourth for a return of $18.00 on the first set.

Manager George Chapman announced today that several promotions have been made at El Cerrito track. The new promotion finds John Greenwood presiding judge and racing secretary, A. H. Tanager, padlock judge, J. V. Buckins, breeders secretary and Gus Christ, starter.

Timber Queen of Z. F. Freeman's kennel made it two in a row last night in the third, and was well backed.

ALIGNMENT OF TUNNEL ROAD ASKED

WALNUT CREEK, July 10.—Consideration of a substitute plan, whereby the money appropriated for refusing of the Tunnel Road would be used instead for realignment of that thoroughfare, will be held tomorrow at a meeting of the Greater San Ramon Valley chamber of commerce.

Various civic leaders contend that resurfacing at the present time would cause a needless expenditure since the road must necessarily be straightened to take care of extra traffic upon completion of the proposed Broadway low level tunnel, and that the new pavement would be in use only a comparatively short time.

Approximately $8000 is said to be available for the work, and the campaign for realignment is being led by M. M. Garrett of Lafayette and Roscoe Jones of Danville and Oakland.

Discussion of various problems concerning the tunnel will also be held at the session, according to T. O. Edwards, president, and a report on the recent trip to Washington, D. C., made in behalf of the project by Supervisor Thomas Caldecott of Berkeley and Archibald B. Tinning, attorney for the tunnel commission, will be submitted.

Bank America Is To Be Protected

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE— WITHOUT CALOMEL

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks punk, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine. For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas builds up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul, skin often breaks out in blemishes. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes three good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get those two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, acting when it comes to making the bile flow freely.

But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Resent a substitute. 25c at all stores. © 1931 C. M. Co.

Edmund Lowe
Nancy Carroll
Robert Armstrong
Law Cody
Warren Hymer

LONG PROGRAM ARRANGED FOR FOX PATRONS

Edmund Lowe and Nancy Carroll play the leading roles in "I Love That Man" drama of a woman's devotion to a man she knows is a good deal less than trustworthy, which opens at the Fox theater today.

Headed the supporting cast are Robert Armstrong, Law Cody, Warren Hymer and Dorothy Burgess. Harry Joe Brown directed this Charles R. Rogers production of Fox Paramount.

Free Glassware

A special attraction of the evening show will be the first of the Fox theater's "Ladies Crystal-Cut Glassware Night" which each Wednesday evening will feature a performance of the evening's performance. Tuesday night of each week will receive a lovely piece of crystal-cut glassware absolutely free of charge in addition to seeing the regular show.

Glassware night will be a regular weekly added feature on Tuesday nights of each week.

"I Love That Man"

The story centers around Lowe and Miss Carroll, a genuine pair bound together in a curious emotional love. Lowe is a confidence man—a smooth crook who finds no greater pleasure in life than swindling a sucker from his money. Miss Carroll is a girl of good background, who knows the moment she meets Lowe, that he is the one man in the world she can love.

Suddenly, without quite understanding how, Lowe finds himself in a legitimate business venture, earning more money by legal methods than he has ever done in illegal ones.

Unexpectedly a pair of crooks with whom he was formerly associated drift into the scene, demand money out of which Lowe had once swindled them, and at this point of crisis, three bold men to participate in a sensational bank robbery.

The picture reaches a breathless climax in the events that follow.

Extra

Bob Hope in his latest "road comedy" "The Rummy" "Catch Em Young" a "shortlight" "Technique" "Mortimer Snerdley" and the "F. B. I. tells a very complete the story of who robs and how and how with "I Love That Man."

Reaper Calls For Richmond Pioneer

Death called for Mrs. Emma E. Rankin, 69, late yesterday at her home, 2828 Edmund avenue.

Mrs. Rankin, who had made her home here for 34 years, had been suffering from an illness for a long time and recently took a turn for the worse. She was born in Napa, Calif. and married here.

Funeral services have been set for three o'clock Wednesday afternoon at the Wilson and Kratzer chapel, Rev. Milton T. T. of Trinity Episcopal church will officiate.

Interment will be in Sunset View cemetery.

NEW YORK INSIDE OUT

By DON O'MALLEY

NEW YORK, July 10—A little bit of everything... Barbara Stanwyck and baby... Frank Fay... but every $110,000... on their "Tattle Tales" flop... Another creative bill himself as... "The Love Racketeer" exploits... voice that couldn't lure an alibi... maid out of a burning building... A kick from the film news... by recovers favorably on... They've done so much squawking... over that "Hold Your Man" song in... Jean Harlow's picture that the customers can hardly wait to hear it... The Internal Revenue Department... in New York has sent a special examiner out to Hollywood to check the books of a major film company... When he's finished the film company will quietly hand over an additional half-million in taxes... Another expose is on the way up "The Opera Racket" it's called and will "tell all" About the only racket left unexposed now is the hotel gambling profession.

AN IDEAL summer evening is a trip on Bobby Sanford's "Showboat" on the Hudson, a floating restaurant, equal to any being thrown in the stuffy subcellars around town... The Arakel on Lexington Ave. features Syrian cooking only, so help me... Tallulah Bankhead has read over 100 scripts in search for a promising vehicle for next season... The heaviest rain in town these days is owed by Helen Meany, the swimming champ... Otto Kalin swims on a long, long vacation abroad when it's all over that is, if they let him go... Bill Brown, successor to the late...

George Olsen is floating South America capitals with his orchestra... Sig Spaeth, the Tune Detective has a lot of late paintings collected over a long period... MISSING MAN FOUND IN BAY

OAKLAND, July 10—The body of Dar, Romaine, 33, telegraph operator, reported missing by his wife, Violet, on July 4, was found floating in the Oakland estuary off the foot of Market street.

Clinton Gordon, 288 Davis street, standing on a wharf, saw the body in the white wash left by a ferry boat and notified police.

Mrs. Gordon, who identified the body at the morgue, told police she and her husband quarreled on July 4 and he left home.

There were no notes in the pockets of the clothing, but police believe Romaine committed suicide as an examination revealed no bruises or wounds.

Wife Seeks to Divorce Hubby

MARTINEZ, July 10—Charging desertion, Mrs. Beryl Brown today asked the superior court for a divorce from Alvin Brown.

She also filed for the custody of a minor child and $25 a month support. Toss a coffee is her attorney.

The couple were married on June 20, 1928 and separated on March 10, 1932.

Husband Generous In Divorce Suit

MARTINEZ, July 10—Offering the custody of a minor child and $25 monthly alimony to his wife, Eugene M. Craven of Richmond today filed suit for divorce against Mrs. Craven.

He charges that his wife nagged at him, told him she no longer loved him and falsely accused him of associating with other women.

The couple were married on December 29, 1927, and separated June 29, 1932.

T. N. Calfee is attorney for the plaintiff.

Hollywood Film Shop

HOLLYWOOD—UP Herbert Mundin, who has lunched himself through so many better roles that he now opens doors automatically can take any kind of a joke save a practical one.

The comedian admits he had to quit frequenting hotels because he found himself picking up quarters left for the waiters. But no matter, this concerns Mundin's burning reaction to a jokester who telephoned him in the name of the studio one night, ordering him to be made up and ready for work at 3 a. m. the next day.

The venal Mundin and his pal, Frank Atkinson, a few days later visited the home of the jokester, who was known to have a "wired" chair. Anyone sitting down in it gets a shocking electric.

Mundin allowed himself to be maneuvered into the chair. As the "juice" was turned on he groaned.

Local Couple Are Married In Nevada Town

Miss Marguerite Godman and Donald Shoemaker, popular Richmond couple, were married in Carson City, Nevada, according to reports last evening.

The pair were said to have made the trip to Nevada by airplane as Shoemaker is a capable pilot.

Miss Godman is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Godman of 1516 Twenty-fifth street, San Pablo. Her husband is the son of Mrs. Mary Shoemaker of 1024 Barrett avenue. He is employed at an Alameda airport.

"Beano" Games At Maple Camp

Amusing games of "Beano" occupied members of Maple camp, Royal Neighbors, last evening following their regular meeting.

Mrs. Maude Phillips, who is chairman of social events for this month, was in charge of the diversion.

During the business meeting Mrs. Pansy Spring, Oracle, presided. Plans were made to visit the Wilson and Kratzer chapel on July 21.

The Past Oracle club will meet in Oakland on Tuesday, July 18, and a large attendance of past officers from Richmond is expected. Refreshments closed the evening.

C. E. Society Plans Social

The game "Touring" will be a feature of this evening's entertainment at the monthly social meeting of the Keystone Christian Endeavor society of the First Christian church.

Mrs. P. M. Black and Mrs. Fred Watson are to be in charge of the supper.

All members and friends are cordially invited to be present.

K. of C. Council Goes to Berkeley

Thomas Smith of Pinole, new grand knight of Contra Costa council, Knights of Columbus, called to order and immediately assigned a meeting last evening in Memorial hall.

The members immediately left for Berkeley to witness installation of the new staff there. Ernest Woodfield of San Pablo conducted the ceremonies, assisted by officers of the local council.

The local council seating of officers is set for Monday, July 24, in Memorial hall. Smith will succeed Clifford J. Anglin as grand knight.

Eclipse Lodge In Regular Meeting

Examination of the incoming officers of Eclipse lodge of Odd Fellows was made last evening during the regular meeting in I. O. O. F. hall. District Deputy Grand Master Herbert Hagen of Rodeo was in charge.

The entertainment committee reported on arrangements for the installation ceremonies on July 22. These will be in conjunction with the Contra Costa encampment of Odd Fellows and will also celebrate the 25th anniversary of the order.

Big Crowd Frolics At Italian Picnic

About 1500 persons were present Sunday at the first annual picnic of the Galileo Italian society picnic in La Honda bowl.

The day was spent in games of various sorts and dancing. A barbecue and other refreshments were served and a program given.

Oil Company Gets Pipe Line Permit

The Krieger Oil company, now completing a distributing plant on the water front, was last evening granted a permit by the council to install a four-inch pipe line to carry kerosene from vessels to its storage tanks.

The new pipe line will be laid in the same trench as the eight-inch oil pipe line.

Governors Get Salute, Rules Or No Rules

SACRAMENTO, July 10.—Rules or no rules, Governor Rolph, Jr., is going to have a 19-gun salute fired when governors bound for their twenty-fifth annual conference here on July 23, cross the California-Nevada line.

The special session of the Overland bringing the governors of many states will be greeted by 19 shots fired from a 3-inch cannon, a minute before midnight on July 22, under arrangements between Rolph and Adjutant General Seth H. said of the National Guard.

The time was selected since an Armistice day salute is a salute of this nature on Sunday.

Rolph had General Howard to disregard another rule forbidding a salute between friend and enemy.

Lazy Motorists Increase Hazard

The latest menace in the traffic world is the lazy motorist. He is the one who is lax about giving hand signals. The Public Safety Department of the National Automobile club urges correction of this increasingly bad habit. No doubt the presence of mechanical signals and other safety features has led to this type of carelessness on the part of the motorist.

The spotlight, for instance, is used in lieu of the hand signal denoting this maneuver. Moreover, in making a turn, the motorist glances in his mirror. If no overtaking car is visible, he simply does not bother to signal his intention to change his course.

Still another manifestation of the tendency to spare energy in respect to signals is found in the failure to use the horn. At night, especially, many motorists count upon their headlights to serve as a warning of their approach and intention to pass another vehicle. In daylight they assume the driver of the car ahead has detected their presence in respect to signals is found in the failure to use the horn. Local Water Supply In Lake Pardee Has Reached Its Crest

The peak of the annual harvest of water has now been passed, with Lake Pardee having reached its crest and started to decline, according to John S. Longwell, assistant chief engineer and general manager of the East Bay Municipal Utility district.

The lake, chief storage reservoir for the district's water supply, reached its crest on July 1, much later than in years of normal precipitation, and was within 10 feet of the spillway, whereas in other years the water has run over the spillway in May and June.

The lake now contains 56 billion gallons of water, against a total capacity of 63 billion. Longwell reported. The coolness of the spring and early summer season was responsible for the lateness of the completed run off, as it was responsible for the small consumption of water to date, 14 million gallons.

Last year the largest usage in a single day was 53 million gallons. The average use of water this year, is notably less than last year owing to the lack of hot weather.

Longwell reported completion of the repair work on the San Pablo tunnel, which brings water through the Berkeley hills from the San Pablo reservoir to the filtration plant in the hills above El Cerrito. This tunnel, constructed by the East Bay Water Co. in 1929, developed a serious break about two thousand feet from the west portal, forcing a shut down last October. Investigation disclosed a series of smaller breaks all through the tunnel, necessitating a large program of repair work throughout practically the entire bore. During the period water was carried through the Claremont tunnel and along the foothills through the high line Wild cat and Sequoia aqueducts serving the territory normally served by the San Pablo tunnel and filtration plant.

Both the tunnel and the filtration plant are now in operation and the former method of distributing the water has been resumed.

During the period an unusually large amount of water was stored in San Pablo reservoir, with the result that the water level is now but five feet below the spillway, the highest in its history.

The Utility district has resumed the policy of pumping from the Mokelumne aqueduct into Upper San Leandro reservoir, the level of which will be materially raised in the months to come.

CO. MANAGER PLAN TO BE GIVEN STUDY

MARTINEZ, July 10.—Additional data on the operation of the county manager form of government was being secured today by a joint committee from the Farm Bureau and the Contra Costa Taxpayers' association.

Preliminary reports were submitted at a recent session, but were found to be not wholly satisfactory to the investigating group, and B. B. McFarland, Anthony Crafton and C. E. Schink were requested to prepare an augmented final report at a session tentatively set for July 20.

Several formal plans for the new type of government were presented at the meeting. McFarland said, but the committee agreed that still other plans should be considered before a definite recommendation is made. The plan finally adopted will be sent to directors of the two organizations for action.

Personnel of the committee representing the Taxpayers' Association included: E. I. Delaysaga, of Orinda, president, who is serving as chairman; E. B. Mull, of Richmond; and F. W. Vieth, of Crockett.

The Farm Bureau committee includes: Thomas Vanasek, of Walnut Creek; president of the organization; E. A. Smith and Crafton, both of Ygnacio Valley. McFarland, who is secretary of the taxpayers' group, is serving as committee secretary.

Adoption of the county manager form of government in Contra Costa county has been advocated by the Farm Bureau for the past two years.

Enjoy Vacation Trip by Planning Routine for Diet and Rest

The excitement of planning a vacation so often reaches its climax in contemplation of what is going to be seen or the people who are to be met. Too rarely are we really concerned in what condition of health we shall find ourselves when we return. Certainly we should not neglect our physical resources, as well as our financial ones, in planning a vacation trip.

Consideration of the best way, by diet and sufficient rest, to keep ourselves in good condition. In these days of easy transportation, travel ought to be more than a summer's pastime. And travel should be made more general, and it has been, if we were to make more of a study of its hygienic value. The stimulus of change, of new ideas, or diversion, and of fresh enthusiasm would bring us back to our duties with a new rating of efficiency. And don't put it off too long if the project is at all possible financially.

A DELIGHTFUL woman of my acquaintance, cultured and widely read, had treasured a longed-for trip around the world, for years. Not until she had retired from a responsible position on account of age would she admit it possible to take the dreamed-of journey. As was to be feared, she broke down in a distant land, spent her funds for hospital care and was sent home with her dream only half realized. Of course, her sister had been accustomed to a quiet, regulated scheme of existence. The excitement, strange foods, over-exertion were too much for her.

I AM particularly concerned for those who will set forth in this summer vacation for a tour of varying distance. I am recalling for their possible benefit, a trip undertaken not many months ago by a part of my family, who had tried out various modes of travel and were planning for a real out-of-doors jaunt. They wanted to cook, eat, sleep, and live outside of walls. Many others will find this method the only one possible in these strenuous times and there is no reason why care and judgment cannot make it the happiest way to go. There were four in the group I have mentioned with a range in age of more than fifty years.

PRECEDING the trip, a teacher of dietetics from the high school was called in conference. With her help, a dietary covering a two-weeks' period was drawn up, with careful details of the nutritive values of all foods suggested. Fats, proteins, carbohydrates, mineral salts, water content, with acid or alkaline reaction were all noted. Climate and season with varying food supplies were taken into consideration. Out of all these notations, the "household" group was able to choose a diet suitable to each day's needs, for each individual, while the journey progressed. As the period passed, the menus needed only to be repeated, with due reference to changing weather and markets.

NINE thousand miles of travel, through sixteen states were covered in perfect health and comfort with every possible indulgence of luxury. Some further "kinks" were taken in the way of health and protection were laid down. The very slight expense of patching one tent within the confines of a tourist camp affords a safer water supply and usually makes toilets and showers available. Do not postpone the making of camp until after dark. It is too easy to step into a hole or trip over a wire fence. Beware of old shelters where rodents are likely to be found. An old band which looks good for fire, and is by the roof of a shelter, is not.

IF one or more of the party really likes to rest in a blanket and sleep on the ground, consult your nearest scout troop for the best way to make Mother Earth a comfortable resting place. With careful attention to details, many will find a simply arranged vacation trip not just the only one possible, but just the one most enjoyable.

SPRING STYLES BEST ADAPTED TO SLIM FORMS

By JACQUELINE HUNT

DO NOT invest much money in pretty summer clothes until you have done all that you can to make your complexion and your body worth of them. The most expensive gown cannot be attractive on a figure that slumps and sags. On the other hand, the least expensive dress, tastefully chosen and becomingly worn, can make you look like a princess.

This summer's styles were planned for the youthful, slender-waisted woman. Most of the styles are boyish, although there is a wider choice than usual. In general, shoulders are broad (therefore, your own must be very straight and dignified). Waistlines are where they belong and skirts are either straight or very simply cut so your hips must be well under control. With these facts before you, you should set out to adjust your figure before you buy your nicest summer clothes.

Straight, dignified shoulders do not mean rigid shoulders. You want a straight, flexible back and easy, flexible shoulder muscles. Train them so they can do their job easily and properly before you try to keep them in place. Here is a good exercise for that purpose:

Stand in an easy, natural position, with your feet about fourteen inches apart. Now counting, move the shoulders slowly forward as far as they will go on 1, move them upward on the count of 2, backward on 3, and sharply down on 4. This exercise will take out any rigidity that improper carriage might have created.

A strong, flexible back and strong abdominal muscles are just as much a part of good posture as strong, well-carried shoulders. They must all work together, so this exercise was especially planned to help all of them at once. Lie down on a quilt or mat on the floor. Roll over flat on your stomach. Head turned to one side, arms extended at right angles to your body, feet together and toes resting on the floor.

Now bring your arms and shoulders as far backward as you possibly can, breathing deeply and raising your head and chest off the floor at the same time. Keep the legs straight, and using the back and thigh muscles, raise them slightly off the floor so that your weight rests on your thighs and abdomen.

Hold that position while you count five. Relax for another count of five, then repeat. Five times to begin with, and later, ten or fifteen. After awhile you should be able to touch the backs of your hands together behind you.

If there are physical defects that cannot be easily corrected, then try some of the "kicks" here ways to adapt the new fashions to your figure. If your shoulders are narrow and thin, wear some of the dresses with little puffed sleeves or cape collars, or some of the ruffled details to make them appear broader.

If your hips are broad in spite of all you can do to reduce them, do not worry too much about the matter. Concentrate the decoration of your usual clothes about your waistline. Wear interesting necklines and sleeves, and perhaps touches of costume jewelry. If your tummy is too large, get a good foundation garment and be sure that there are no buttons or other decorations on your costume in this region. For upper arms that are too fat, flat-topped collars that conceal them and gay bracelets to call attention to your wrists will make you look as though the fashions were designed for you alone.

After you have effected a compromise between the styles and your figure, think about the colors that will flatter you most. You can do a lot, you know, to adapt your complexion to almost any color you wish to wear.

MODES AND MANNERS

QUESTION: "In setting the table for a meat course and a salad course, how should the forks be laid out?"—W. K.

ANSWER: Whichever fork is to be used first should be placed farthest from the plate. As the salad course usually follows the meat course, the salad fork should be placed directly beside the service plate, with the meat fork to the left of the salad fork. This order should be maintained even when the salad accompanies the meat course, the only being merely an auxiliary dish in this case and in a class with relishes which the guest may abstain from or not, according to his preference.

MIXED GRILLS CUT EXPENSES

By JUDITH WILSON

WHEN you are looking for ideas for economical meals that are at the same time light and interesting, plan the menus around a mixed grill. Introduce the spring-like touches in the salads, garnishes and desserts. For your mixed grill buy four good-sized lamb kidneys, eight slices of bacon and four fat link sausages. Cut the kidneys into halves and saute with the sausages until partly cooked. Then arrange on a plate skewers, one slice of bacon doubled, one-half kidney sprinkled with salt and paprika, a sausage, then another piece of kidney and bacon. Preheat your broiler over with the pan and rack in position for ten minutes, then arrange the skewers in place. Grill, turning frequently until the bacon is cooked and serve on triangles of buttered toast.

Grilled Bananas
A second grill combination is a good suggestion for a Friday luncheon or supper. Preheat the broiler, then arrange the buttered and seasoned fillets of any white fish on the rack, with the bananas that have been rolled in lemon juice and flour and then wrapped in bacon. Hold the bacon in place with toothpicks. Halves of fresh tomatoes may be buttered and seasoned and broiled at the same time. Turn the fish and the wrapped bananas frequently until evenly browned on all sides.

Spring Salad
For a spring salad wash and drain one-half head of romaine, one cup of dandelion greens, a few scallions, six radishes and a few sprigs of watercress. Separate the green in a cold salad bowl that has been rubbed with garlic, chop the scallions fine and slice the radishes thinly and shred the watercress. Blend the ingredients thoroughly and dress with this mixture, well blended, one-half teaspoon mustard, one teaspoon salt, one-half teaspoon paprika, four tablespoons salad oil, two tablespoons vinegar, one teaspoon catsup and one chopped hard-boiled egg. Mix the salad and dressing and serve from the large bowl.

Rhubarb Shortcake
Rhubarb shortcake will appeal to all who like the flavor of the spring vegetable. Mix thoroughly two cups of flour, four teaspoons baking powder, one-half teaspoon salt and two tablespoons sugar. Put three tablespoons of shortening into this mixture and add two well-beaten eggs and one-half cup milk.

New York—With warmer night breezes, it seems nice to plan diaphanous dance dresses, strangely enough, the darker colors seem to be liked, however, and there are prints, too, the scattered field flower designs being the reigning favorites.

If you want to be distinctive, why not add a stray chiffon gown to your summer wardrobe? For evening, I mean. Gray is not as a rule a good evening color, but when it is fashionable, as it is now, everyone forgets all about that—in fact, it is good.

Reports from Paris night clubs are from Paris night clubs, are that dark blue is a very chic evening color. It's a blue-spring green. The combination of dark and light blue is much approved, and of lavender blue, too, as the light blue is the lighter shade.

Printed Satin
If you are one of those who think you look best in satin, you will like to see a gown with the new printed ones. Usually such gowns are highly lustrous. Again, field flowers are scattered over the surface. This is true also of organdy, which still retains its prestige for summer evening frocks and which is now usually mounted over tulle. One thing to remember about organdy is that it has been graduated from the ruffy juvenile flares into sophisticated grades, where it is tailored meticulously, just as chiffons and nets have been tailored since Chanel first made the "garçon" discovery that they were chic done that way.

Disappointment has followed the effort to bring the instep-length dress into semi-formal life. Women will have none of it. They subscribe to the belief that dancing clothes should be short and feminine clothes long.

There are scores of women who do not look well in anything but the simplest clothes. They may like frills and furrows, but such things are not for them. Simple lines and a minimum of trimming is the best sort of prescription for the average woman to follow, anyway.

Home-Making

By ALINE STERN

You may not know what to do to prevent stockings from fading around the heels, but you don't have to wear them in this state and advertise the fact that you are suffering from the depression. It is as simple as this: Just turn them inside out and wear them on the wrong side. For some reason, the wrong side does not fade as readily as the right side.

If you are the bride's mother, and making the wedding cake, you will want to make enough for the guests and enough to put away for wedding anniversaries in the years to come. Packed in brown sugar or powdered sugar in an airtight container, a wedding cake will keep for years, even to that far-off silver anniversary, it is said. The cake that is put away to be kept for anniversaries should not be iced.

Machine Age Problems Foreseen . . . Modern Technocracy

WHILE modern technocrats, like Howard Scott, are frequently regarded as creators of a new school of thought, their prophecies of increased disorganization unless the machine age is reorganized, were made by New England factory and mill workers, twenty years before the Civil War.

Elias Howe, inventor of the sewing machine, was born in Spencer, Mass., in 1819. Textile workers in the mills around Boston, to which city Howe migrated as a lad of sixteen, did everything in their power to block his career. They almost did, too. After working for a cotton machine manufacturer for ten years, Howe eventually assembled a sewing machine. Then his troubles began.

Instead of being hailed as a genius and a hero, his fellow workers considered him an enemy. It was said of him, that his invention would cut down the time of labor in production. The few friends he had by refused to use the machine. Then his troubles began.

Armed with his patented sewing machine, Howe thought he was about to mount the slippery ladder of success. He offered his machine to his employers. They told him they thought well enough of it, but decided to consult their workers. Then came the hitch. The workers flatly and unanimously refused to use the machine. They described it as nothing more or less than a labor-saving device, and declared that labor was the one commodity which they proposed to maintain in order that they might continue to earn their livings.

The factory owners then told Howe that they were sorry, but had no desire to antagonize their employees. Howe was heartbroken. Here he had created a machine which would save workers' energies and his reward was loss of friendship and the refusal of anyone to give his device a chance. He turned his eyes toward the Old World when his own country turned him down. Working for a railroad, Howe saved enough money for a passage to Europe. After two years abroad, Howe sold his sewing machine to English manufacturers for a slight sum. He returned to America, to discover that imitations of his machine had been introduced. After a long legal battle he established his right to the sewing machine patent, and when his patent expired in 1867, he had collected about $2,000,000 in royalties. He died in Brooklyn, N. Y., in October, 1867.

NOW to come back to technocracy and Howard Scott. First, technocracy is a serious effort to collate facts which may show which way industrial civilization is moving. Until this idea of his became a topic for general discussion, Howard Scott was a chemist, somewhat eccentric, who mixed the secret formula for a floor polish. It must have been a pretty good floor polish, because one of his best customers was the great Columbia Presbyterian Medical Center in New York City. Other facts in Scott's life are somewhat obscure. This is because America's Technocrat No. 1 has a penchant for telling somewhat confusing stories.

Technocracy presumes that all the wealth and functions of society can be calculated in terms of energy units. This presumption formed the basis for the "Energy Survey of North America," in which one man's time for eight hours is considered equal to 1,500,000 footpounds. Energy charts have been made by the technocrats of about fifty industries in the United States. These energy charts, according to the technocrats, show, or will show, that the present price system will not work. What will work, they say, is a world managed by technocrats, wherein everyone does an equal share of work, and enjoys an equal and very large income in goods provided by the state, or obtained by an exchange of "erg" tokens. Just how this transformation from dollar economy to energy economy is to come about, Howard Scott hasn't exactly explained.

Suffice to say, the thing man has created to ease his lot in life, at this time in history, seems to have proven a veritable Frankenstein. The machine has eliminated man-power, but instead of giving him leisure, it appears to have given him unemployment and even discontentment.

HELP GLORIFY MOTHER'S DAY, SUNDAY, MAY 14

By MARIAN MAYES MARTIN

MOTHER'S DAY, like Christmas, comes but once a year, although every day should be Mother's Day in spirit. Still, one day a year has been set apart to give mother flowers, or to make her some appropriate gift as a tender proof of affection and a recognition of all she has done for us, or for someone else. May 14th is the date this year, and please do not forget it. If ever the mothers of men needed encouragement, it is now. The sacrifices they are making in that silent, uncomplaining way mothers have, are far greater than most of us realize. The little economies she is practicing, the extra little chores she has taken on, may have been unnoticed by her family. That's the way she wants it to be and tries to make it. Here is a love that is entirely unselfish. She shuns rather than craves public recognition of her acts, but oh, how she does cherish a spontaneous, deep from the heart token of appreciation from her family.

THERE are few men, even heroes of renown, who boast of a courage as great as that of a mother. What wouldn't a curious risk for her child? The curious part of it all is that mothers come to regard this tremendous courage and love as all in the day's work. It's time someone brought them up sharply to a realization that Mother has her limitations of physical strength and mental endurance. We take too much for granted from our mothers. We take and take and take, and what, pray, does she get in return? A card, or even hundreds of them, once a year seems a very small return for her daily devotion to her children.

PLENTY of great men have frankly attributed their success to their mothers. Even Napoleon, the great egotist, revered his mother and gave her great credit, which, from Napoleon, was praise indeed.

CAN it be that sons are more appreciative of their mothers than daughters are? It often seems so, in spite of the old adage that says, "A son is a little bit of his father, but a daughter is a daughter all the days of her life." Only half true, like so many of the old maxims. Sons may be neglectful of their mothers, being men and inclined to be neglectful of everything at times, but they are their mother's staunchest admirers, she may be sure of that. Boys are fed from an early age on the formula of a boy's best friend is his mother, and they rarely, if ever, have any cause to doubt it. But boys are so inarticulate. It's difficult for them to show their feelings, and so the institution of Mother's Day was founded, in order to help them say it with flowers, "since they could not seem to say it in any other way.

IT DOES not have to be flowery, of course, yet what could be lovelier? The point is, make Mother feel how you love and appreciate her. Do it in your own way, of course, but do it. Do not let the day go by without paying court to her in the nicest way you know how. She has all sorts of little anniversaries concerning you and quite often when you believe that, surely you can make some little sacrifice for her, not only on her birthday and everybody's holidays, but on the day that is so peculiarly yours and hers.

LATER on, father has a day, too, and believe me, he needs it. Don't forget that either. You won't be allowed to, if mother's around, but the pathetic part of it all is she would never, by the slightest hint, remind you of her day—and like as not, father will forget all about it unless you remind him.

SO HERE'S to May 14th, and let's make it a Big Day for Mother!

Well-Lighted Room Is Very Necessary

Lighting can make or mar a room, a disposition—or a room. If you sit in a charming room and are relaxed and at peace with the world, it may be because you've had a good day and are well rested. But if you move into another equally well-furnished room and find yourself with a growing headache and an irritable desire to go home, it is probably not due to the lobster you ate. It is probably due to poor lighting.

There is comfort in a well-lighted room. Eyes and dispositions are spared. Whether the room be stimulating or subdued, the atmosphere is sure to be pleasant.

LONE BANDIT GETS $80 IN DARING ACT

Seemed Desperate
Once he told Atwood that he didn't care whether he lived or died.

"When we are hungry," he said, "we don't care what we do and we don't care if we die doing it."

He constantly threatened the life of the Richmond man.

"I'll plug you if you make any moves," he said at intervals during the ride. He emphasized his statements with jabs of the gun barrel.

As they neared Lafayette a light car passed them going at a high rate of speed. The bandit began to search Atwood. He went through his books and wallet, taking about $75 of the bread company's money and $7.12 of Atwood's own.

Then he told the driver to slow down and to keep to the extreme right of the road. After a few moments of this, he ordered the truck stopped.

Changes Vehicles
"If you move now, you'll get yours," he said. He opened the truck door and stepped out. Reaching back, he seized the ignition keys of the truck and ran for the light coupe which had stopped to wait for him.

Atwood described the bandit as short and slender, weighing about 120 pounds. He wore the white shirt and blue trousers and a white cap with a dark design. His shoes were a bright tan and he seemed fairly young. His garments were badly in need of cleaning and pressing.

The car in which he made his escape was a streaked blue-green and the back window was broken out. Atwood believed that this car had followed the truck all the way from Richmond.

Very Nervous
He mentioned particularly the extreme nervousness of the bandit and the fact that he sat on the floor of the car during one stretch of the ride. At no time, however, did he remove the gun from Atwood's side.

Atwood and his wife operate a delicatessen and lunch counter at 2213 Macdonald avenue.

Cerrito Councilmen Hold Up Appointment Of Treasurer's Aide

Request of City Treasurer Forrest H. Wright to the council of El Cerrito at the meeting Monday for permission to hire a deputy, was laid over for one week on a motion made by Councilman Hans M. Nissen.

Wright stated that under the new ordinance the city treasurer's office will do the tax collecting and it would be necessary to have additional help at least part of the time and recommended the appointment of Olga Petersen.

Motion Withdrawn
A motion to appoint Miss Petersen, made by Councilman W. F. Huber, was withdrawn when Nissen asked for time to look into her qualifications and Wright was unable to give any references for Miss Petersen to work or education.

Wright said the council should make the appointment as he needed the help now and was directly responsible for Miss Petersen being qualified.

A communication from the Contra Costa County Firemen's association thanking the council for their cooperation in passing the ordinance prohibiting the use and sale of fireworks in El Cerrito was placed on file.

To Buy Seven
On the recommendation of Fire Chief O. A. Burnett and Fire Commissioner Hans M. Nissen, the council ordered that a new siren for the fire engine be purchased from the Duncan Manufacturing Co. at a cost of $35.

An ordinance directing the council to call for bids for city printing and advertising the first meeting in July of each year passed its second reading and was adopted by the council.

Permits Granted
Off sale beer permits were granted to the Piggly Wiggly and State-way stores.

An on-sale permit was granted Jack Cefis and soft drink permits were granted to Jack Cefis and E. Wuelzer by the council.

City Attorney T. H. Delap was instructed to draw up an amendment to the tax ordinance making it conform to the State law and present it to the council next Monday night.

Tax Penalties
Under the present ordinance penalties on delinquent taxes after the first year are ten per cent and for each succeeding year they are twenty, thirty and forty per cent, while under the State law after the first year and penalty is figured at one per cent per month.

Penalties for the first delinquent period are now five per cent which will change to eight per cent and for the second delinquent period are now fifteen per cent and will be changed to six per cent.

Calling for bids on the city's advertising and printing was laid over for one week on the recommendation of Councilman Peter Larsen who wanted additional time to look over the resolution.

Rescind Order
After ordering that the police car be repaired the council rescinded action and passed a motion holding up the repair of the car until an estimate of the cost of the work is submitted by Chief of Police R. R. Cheek.

Councilman Peter Larsen who made the motion to hold up the repair work said that he wanted to know how much the work would cost as there had been a great deal of work done on the car already.

Democrats Send Editor Bouquet

Editor,
The Record-Herald,
Richmond, Calif.
Dear Sir:

We wish to thank you for the fine spirit of co-operation displayed by the RECORD-HERALD in publicizing our free picnic and barbecue at East Shore Park on July 4.

The affair proved to be one of the largest and most successful political gatherings ever held in the state and we feel that much of the credit for its success is due to the Press of Contra Costa and Alameda counties.

Again thanking you for your co-operation.

Yours truly,
Alameda County Democracy Incorporated, Publicity committee.

Kidnapers Demanding Quarter Of Million For Youth's Release

Connell's friends were confused. One report said the kidnapers called twice during the night asking for "Ed" and later for "Dan" O'Connell.

It was definitely known, however, that the following day the spokesman for the kidnapers called Daniel V. by telephone.

According to a source close to the family, the voice said:

Threaten to Kill
"We've got Ed's neck. Don't tell the police or the newspapers or we'll kill him. We'll get in touch with you later."

Later that morning the call came from Daniel O'Connell again, repeating the warning and said there would be a letter addressed to Edward J. O'Connell, special delivery at the postoffice.

The letter was received about 10:30 a. m. Saturday. It was reported. It merely said that a further communication would be received soon and again repeated:

"We'll kill him if you tell the police or the newspapers."

As far as could be learned, the police have not officially been called into the case.

Second Note

About three hours later, a second written communication was received by the family, again by special delivery. The body of the letter was printed out the signature was that of young O'Connell the United Press was told.

The letter said young O'Connell was being treated "all right." That the kidnapers demanded $250,000, and left further instructions to obtain the youth's release.

The letter told the boy's parents to place an advertisement in a number code in the Knickerbocker Press, a daily newspaper here, listing the names of the eleven persons whom the kidnapers could approach to negotiate for the ransom.

The O'Connells followed instructions and that night the newspaper carried a twelve line classified advertisement made up completely of figures except for the heading "Sedgwick."

It was not known what "Sedgwick" referred to.

Go's After Money

The only outstanding development since Sunday came when Samuel Aronowitz, law partner of Edward J. O'Connell, left for Green Island "to get some money."

Friends of the family declared it was impossible for O'Connell to obtain the quarter of a million dollars ransom demanded, "unless they pawn everything they own and indent themselves so that they will have to work the rest of their lives to pay it off."

The letter received on Saturday was the last communication from the kidnapers.

"They don't know what to expect now," a friend, who had been in contact with members of the family, said.

Officer on Guard

Young O'Connell is a scrawny six footer, weighing approximately 200 pounds. He is a lieutenant in the national guard and was graduating from Marine Military Academy.

Names of those included in the code message were: Jimmy Gilchrist, Pat Casey, John Oley, Fred Carroll, Tom Lynch, Barney Riley, Jim O'Hara, Tom Joyce, Mosh Tractner, Rudy Riley and Ames O'Brien.

The family was assuming a "standby attitude," it was reported, awaiting further word from the men who held the boy captive.

False clues were obtained during the day, leading to several wild goose chases on the part of persons acting as intermediaries for the O'Connells.

Bold Out Story

Although newspapers were aware the youth was missing, on the plea of an intimate of the family they withheld publication of the story so as not to endanger the boy's chances of escaping bodily harm.

The three O'Connell brothers were close allies of Tammany Hall for years until the state convention last October when it was reported differences of opinion arose between the two factions.

A third uncle of young O'Connell, the late Patrick H. O'Connell, also wielded a powerful influence in Democratic affairs. He died last month, not long after filling the only political post he ever held—clerk of the New York State Senate.

Backed Smith

During the 1932 presidential campaign the O'Connell brothers gave their support to former Governor Alfred E. Smith for the Democratic nomination, thereby incurring the wrath of forces of Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Postmaster General James A. Farley, national and state party chairman, retaliated by bringing about the ousting of virtually all Senate and House members of the O'Connell family.

Through Farley's influence, the Senate decided to transfer the appointive power from the Senate clerk to the upper House majority leader, John J. Dunningan of New York City, a Tammany Hall adherent.

The fight was a bitter one and extended for several weeks before Farley triumphed.

THREE JAILED IN PICKETING OF ORCHARDS

MARTINEZ, July 10—Preparing for additional flareups among apricot pickers striking for higher wages in the Diablo Valley, the sheriff's office today maintained a force of 15 deputies at Brentwood.

The only arrests made since trouble threatened early last week, resulted late Saturday night, when Deputy Sheriff Joseph McAvoy, Joseph Games and H. B. Hollenbach took into custody three men for asserting attempting to distribute literature among the workers.

V. W. Lyons, 30, of Richmond, charged with vagrancy, and R. Gonzales, 29, and P. Garcia, 25, of Brentwood, accused of disturbing the peace, still were being held in the county jail here in lieu of $500 bail.

One of those arrested, Lyons, also is facing a peace disturbance charge in Justice Court here for picketing the courthouse office of Mrs. Ruth McCord, county Social Service Bureau director.

Lyons Joseph Bettencourt and his son both of Walnut Creek, are at liberty on $25 bail each on the latter charges.

The apricot pickers seek an increase of from 15 to 20 cents an hour. The demands contained in the literature distributed among the workers also call for free rents and food to be supplied the unemployed by the fruit growers.

Twenty-five carloads of strikers were escorted by officers on the highway a short distance out of Brentwood when a check of the machines showed that many of the drivers were unlicensed.

zelino Bettencourt through Attorney T. N. Calfee today filed suit for divorce from Alfred M. Bettencourt.

She charges that her husband, called her names, ridiculed her before her friends and struck her on several occasions. She asks $20 monthly alimony.

The couple married March 23, 1929, and separated on June 29, 1930.
